TEAMS CONFIRMED FOR THE START OF THE 2021 SANTOS FESTIVAL OF CYCLING

Some of Australia's strongest UCI Continental, National Road Series and Wildcard teams have confirmed their participation in the 2021 Santos Festival of Cycling, which will offer a breadth of elite and up-and-coming talent to South Australia when racing kicks off next week, Tuesday 19 January.

"We're looking forward to welcoming the teams here in South Australia." said Race Director Stuart O'Grady.

"We have already announced Team Garmin-Australia, headlined by 2020 Santos Tour Down Under winner Richie Porte, and we will also welcome a raft of WorldTour riders racing here for the event.

These teams will have the opportunity to compete in stages normally raced by WorldTour professional teams in the Santos Tour Down Under, which has been revitalized for a domestic contingent in 2021.

"I am thrilled to see the quality of talent confirmed for the Santos Festival of Cycling. We have some very strong riders across both the men's and women's teams which will certainly deliver some exciting racing for spectators." said Women's Race Director, Kimberley Conte.

Fans will have the opportunity to watch great racing and to watch future champions in the making. Bringing together this racing event which includes riders from the WorldTour stage, Commonwealth and Olympic Games athletes and World Champions reflects the multi-faceted nature of the 2021 Santos Festival of Cycling.

Individual team rosters will be announced in the coming days.

The Santos Festival of Cycling kicks off next Tuesday 19 January at the Adelaide Super-Drome with a fast-paced track series which is sure to set hearts racing. Tickets are selling fast and available through: www.adelaidetrackleague.com
